Select Steel Buildings Expands in Wilkesboro

Wilkesboro, NC – Select Steel Buildings (SSB) has operated since 2017 at 3648 US-421, Wilkesboro. Israel Alonso is the founder and owner of this company. SSB offers complete manufacturing of portable steel buildings, including delivery and installations.

Alonso states that customer service and the quality of products are what set them apart from their competitors. As part of their customer experience, they maintain inventory on their lot and website. Their website showcases available buildings, including customizable features to add to user experience.

SSB currently employs 26 full-time members, with three being recent additions to the team. SSB services North Carolina, Southern Virginia, and Northern South Carolina. Their target market includes residential and commercial clients.

Wilkes EDC was privileged to connect Alonso to their new location at 2715 Statesville Road. They are updating the offices and adding five more portable office spaces. Their 2024 plans consist of diversifying their product line, which include portable greenhouses, manufacturing garages, and storage sheds.

Alonso said, "It is a blessing to expand and remain in Wilkes. North Carolina will always be our home division. We plan to continue growing and bringing more jobs to the area. Our next step is to have a steel mill within 24 months so we may produce our tubing on site."

Wilkes EDC President LeeAnn Nixon shares, "We are grateful Israel Alonso and his team have chosen to remain in Wilkes and take their business to the next level. We look forward to being a resource and celebrating their growth over the year ahead."
